

Experimental platform

The LURPA experimental platform includes instrumented production means (additive manufacturing, machining) as well as measurement means (three-dimensional measuring machine, planar laser sensors, measurement systems with focal variation).

page under construction